JUDGE BUTLER IN THE SENATE.

A correspondent of the Charleston Courier, it giving an account of the attitude and employment of the different Senators while Wilson, of Massachu setts, was delivering his Abolition "Modley," speaks thus of Judge Butler:

"The Senator from South Carolina was lounging in his chair with closed eyes, and certain drowsy and comniferous symptoms led us to suppose the and somniferous symptoms led us to suppose the monotonous tone had lulled him into a doze; but an allusion to his State by the speaker entirely destroyed the truth of our supposition, for in spite indications of drowsiness, the closed eves suddently stared out from under the lock of sil very hair with unusual wakefulness and sagacity of expression, saying as plainly as eyes could speak they were not asleep, and had not been asleep, and never intended to go to sleep, when Carolina was As the attack on his State continued, the honorable Senator became resiless and excited; twitched, fidgeted, arose, shook himself, and, in a sharp, singing tone, asked to be heard in reply. With ready fluency he pla-ced the matter in its proper light, proved his State clear of the charge, and with an air of dignified contempt, he then left the chamber."

Attorney of that port, recommending the passage of the bill, among other reasons, "as an additional safeguard against the fitting out of vessels to engage in the slave trade!"

CONGRESSIONAL NOWINATIONS

Our paper this week bears to the people of the Fifth Congressional District of this State the nomiation of two citizens of Spartanburg for the position of Representative in the Congress of the United States, should Col, ORR, the present faithful and distinguished member, as he has already intimated, retire from his post at the end of the Thirty-Fifth Congress.

The names thus presented are well-known to the resple, James Farrow, Esq., a gentleman of talnie, and recently returned a member of the Legislature, is one of the nominees, and Thomas O. P. VERNON, Esq., the other.

In saying that Mr. Vernon is perhaps best known to the people—being native and to the manor born, and closely identified with a leading. District office set patype in verse as well as by the aid of for many years—we hope we shall not be thought invidious. But somideration is for the people of the District, and indicates but a general preference and ground for support. To us the appear omes with greater emphasis and weight, as a coaborer in the harness of the press, and now our As sociare in the conduct of the Spartan. Mr. Veron, indeed, from the foundation of a District paper, has been withdrawn from its labors but at brief in tervals, each of which interruptions was terminated by renewal of connection with the paper more or less prominent. His services have ever found cordial approval from the people, and his writings have given high character to the paper so fortunate as to secure his editorial lucubrations.

Mr. Vernon, in early life, had the advantages flowing from a liberal collegiate education, toning and developing an intellect both acute and bril liant. As a profession, he devoted himself to the law; but was compelled to vield to the threats of disease, and abandon a career which must have given him a high rank at the bar.

As a public speaker he is effective and captiva ing. Commanding an easy flow of language, gushing forth spontaneously, a playful fancy, delighting in graphic illustration, a manly musica voice, he stands forth an orator to charm and wield Senates. In the comparatively secluded sphere in which Mr. Vernon has shut himself, his powers as speaker are almost unknown, except to his imediate neighbors. But we trust that in the progress of the canvass this will remain true no los

In politica Mr. Vernon is State Rights-occupy ng a position of conservatism identical with that which ruled the judgment of the State Convention of 1852. Those who read the Spartan while un der his editorial control will be at no loss to know where to look for him. To the Union he will re main true, but it must be the Union of the Constitution. Should reckless fanaticism shred that in strument, or by combination pervert the Govern ment from its original purposes and legitimate of jects, he stands ready to forsake and renounce all bligations of loyalty, But not until then. He will ever be found standing by the South, in whatever perils threaten or whatever dangers may as-

Such is one of the men, imperfectly sketched now placed before the people for high office, and should it please them to confer upon him their suffrages, certain are we that it will be confidence wellnerited and honor well bestowed.

In the remarks above made we mean no disparagement to those other name—tich will with certainty contest the position. Already we notice the omination by the Greenville Patriot of Col. Thos. N. Dawkins, of Union. We have, therefore, three gentlemen in the field of whom any District might be proud; and let the standard of success perch where it may, we shall ever stand ready to encourage and sustain that man whom the people may place as a sentinel upon the Federal Watchtower.

NORTHERN SLAVETRADERS.

On the 22d ultimo a bill from the House of Representatives, providing for a steam revenue cutter at the port of New York, came up in the Senate at Washington. Mr. Seward advocated its passage, and quoted a letter from John McKeon, District Attorney of that port, recommending the passage.

Attorney of that port, recommending the passage was There are several passages. mus. There are several passages across this re-

There are several passages across this region, connecting the two great occase; one of them was secured to the crizens of the United States by the construction of the Panama Railroad Another, the Tehuantepec route, has been just relieved from its multiplied difficulties, and delivered into the possession of an American company. The only other oute open for transportation, was through a region of which the tovereignty was disputed, and i his, especially, which the recent treaty co against piracy, from engaging in the African slave by Mr. Dallas, concerns. Its provisions seem to stisty all the questions which have been raised be tween the two Governments in reference to Central America. To a certain extent they acknowledge a joint Protectorate over these States, but the Protectorate does not go to the extent of an interference with the internal arrangements of the States, nor does it claim for the contracting powers exclu sive advantages over other nations, nor is it com-plete without the assent of the States which are es-San Francisco. STARTLING DISCLOSURES

The trial of Huntington, for forgery, is still going n at New York, in the Court of General Sessions The prosecution finished their portion of the care on Tuesday. Mr. Bryan opened for the defence and started at once with the plea of insanity. During Mr. Bryan's address to the jury he made us of some very strange language, and put forth the flowing astounding developments:

"Charles Belden knew Huntington's characte and whole career. It was he who tempted Hun trigton to these forgeries, petted him, and smile approval upon all his prodigality. Col. James L. Orr having stated in speeches to his constituents the past fall that he should probably not be a candidate for re-election to Congres after the expiration of his present term of election, it becomes necessary that the people of the Fifth Congressional District should settle their minds spon a gentleman to succeed him in the event that his conditional withdrawal becomes absolute At the present time it is thought that Spartan ourg has a strong claim upon the position of Renresentative in Congress, from the fact that she has ong waived all claim, and cheerfully supported the favorites of other Districts. It is true that this was under different construction of Electoral Districts, but that fact cannot weaken her present claim, in asmuch as each decade may find her united to new electoral neighbors. For long years Greenville was honored with the Representative in the person of Gen. Waddy Thomson, jr. Union had two -Gens. James Rogers and Daniel Wallace; while Anderson's favorite son, Col. Orr, has been retained in his eminent position till satisfied with its onors and tired of its cares. Under this state of things we present to the Coopersville, Dec. 29, 1857. Our corn crop this year has been pretty good. The field adjacent to the works produced 596 hash cls of excellent corn. There is, say eight acres the field. This would be at the rate of 741 bushels per acre. This field, as you may recollect, was in urnips last year, and sheep fed off them. It received no further manure. It shows what South Carolina fields will produce under what in Britain would be called fair cultivation.

The comments were severe, but the censure was deemed deserved, and the jury gave a verdict of acquittal in about 20 minutes. There were public interests involved in the subject of the strictures, which in the minds of the jur were of considerably more importance than the per sonal approvance caused by them. LOUISVILLE (Kv.) Dec. 31 The Medical Department of the University of Kentucky, including the Library, Laboratory and Museum, was burned to-day. The loss is estima-

COLUMBIA MARKET-Jan. 3.-COTTON .-- Th week just brought to a close has been rather a dult one; not how ver, from the lack of demand, or from prices are steadily advancing, but from the fact of the Christmas and New Year holidays intervening which caused the receipts to be light, and consequently the transactions were limited. On Satur day morning the news from Leverpool by the Ni-agara come to hand, reporting the cotton market an advance of \(\frac{1}{2}\)d. on all grades, with sales for the week of 55,860 bales—speculators taking 9,50 and exporters 3,400 bales. The trade at Manches er was good, and the price of manufactured good-advane ng. These accounts will deubtless have a favorable effect on the cotton market in this coun try; still we must wait the opening of the coming will be able to say with any degree of accuracy t what extent the market will be affected by them.

The sales of the week foot up bales, and we now quote: Inferior 10\frac{3}{2} a 11; ordinary 11 a 11\frac{1}{2}; midding 11\frac{1}{2} a 11\frac{1}{2}; far

Bacon.-We have no material or quotable hange to notice in the bacon market, and we there re continue to quote: shoulders 84 a 9; sides 1 a 104; and hams 11 a 12 cents, necording to quali

CORN -The corn market has also been without any material change, and consequently we continu to quote 80 a 85 cents per bushel. Pras.—The supply of pens on sale is fully adequate to the demand, and therefore there is no change in prices. We still quote 65 a 70 cents per

OATS.—The demand for cats is limited, and as the stock is fair there is no change in prices. We continue to quote 60 cents per bushel

FLOUR -The flour market has been quiet but steady during the past week, and we continue un former quetations of $61 a $7 for common to good brands; superfine $71 a 71; and extra family flour CHARLESTON MARKET, Jan. 2, 1857 .- The reocipts of cotton for the past week were 14,970 bales. Sales in same fime 12,650, at extremes from 11 a

ANOTHER CASE OF FEVER AND AGUS

A few days ago werenerded an estonishing cure of Fever and Ague by the wood Dr. M'Lane's Liver Pills, prepared by Fleming Bros., Pittsburg, Pa. We have now another to mention, siz: that of Mr. James Sharpe, of Madisonburg, who states that he had labored under a very severe stack of Ague and Fever, and was soon restored by the use of these Pille. Mr. Sharpe also expressed an epinthe best for bilious complaints ever offered in bie scotion of country.

Although long known as a sovereign rem for chronic cases of Hepstic derangement, or di-seases of the Liver, the proprietors, Fleming Bros., of Dr. M'Laue's Pilts, were not prepared for the frequent, but gratifying evidences of its general utility and curative capacity. In this respect, this in-valuable medicine has exceeded their most senguine expectations, and induced them to hope that it will be introduced into every family in the United

BOTTS, OF VIRGINIA.
RICAMOND, July 9, 1855. Messrs. WM. S. BEERS & Co.-Gentlemen; Considerations of duty to the afflicted alone prompt me to send you this voluntary testimonial to the great value of CAPTER'S SPANISH MIX-By the same, on the 4th instant, Mr. MADISON WOODY to Miss ELIZABETH BALLENGER, all of Spartanburg District.

Without being disposed, or deeming it necessary. to go into the particulars of the case, I can say that the aston shing results that have been produced by that medicine, on a member of my ow. family, and under my own observation and superintendence, after the skill of the test physicians had been exhausted, and all the usual remedies had failed, fully justify me in recommending its use to all who may be suffering from that dreadin malady.

I do not mean to say that it is adapted to all constitutions, or that it will afford the same relief in all cases; for, of course, I can know nothing about that -but from what I have seen of the effects, I would not hesitate to use it in any and every case of Scroft la, with persons for whom I felt an interest, or over whom I could exercise influence or control, Respectfully yours, JNO.
